Utah Official In $110,000 Shortage

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 28.—(U.P.)—Sherman Preece, chief deputy state auditor, claimed today to have obtained a confession from David Fugh, chief deputy in the state treasurer's office, that Fugh embezzled $110,000 which he lost gambling and playing the races. Fugh surrendered to the sheriff and was held under $50,000 bond.

The shortage was discovered by State Treasurer John Walker as he was making a check of his accounts before turning over his office to A. E. Christensen, his successor. Fugh and his wife made no effort to falsify the records and the shortage was quickly discernible. Walker reported the matter to Gov. George H. Dern, who sent Preece to question Fugh. Walker said his bond of $350,000 amply protected the state against loss. Fugh said he might be able to make good part of the shortage.

4 Local Men Held Oil Deal Victims

Four employees of the Richmond Standard Oil refinery here are believed to have been deceived this far to have entrusted securities for investment to Robert Thomas, Oakland stock and bond broker, who is being sought on a warrant charging grand theft in connection with what authorities claim may be a defalcation of from $50,000 to $150,000.

The oil workers are said to have given Standard Oil company stocks as security on margin stock accounts.

Whether additional charges will be placed against Thomas who was operating without a broker's license, according to the police, is problematical. The grand theft charge affords cause for prosecution and search for the man is being made on this charge. The warrant was sworn to by Frank Harris of Contra Costa county who charges that he entrusted $1500 in stock to Thomas and later received a check for $3300 representing the investment and profits, but the check was returned from

'RESTFUL DAY' FAILS TO HALT FEARS FOR RULER

After many hours of consultation at Buckingham palace, in which five doctors participated at various times during the day, the following bulletin was issued at 8:15 p. m. "The king has had a restful day. The slight improvement noted this morning is maintained."

MANY LARGE PROJECTS TO BE FINISHED IN RICHMOND

While the old year was a good one, the new year will be better.

This is the opinion of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, in making a summary of past achievements and discussing plans for the future.

The city has made rapid strides during the past year, but it is believed by Chamber leaders that the year 1929 will see still greater progress and will witness the consummation of several large projects for which the ground has been carefully laid during the months just past.

It is expected that the year will see ground broken on several new industries, chief among which is the new assembling plant of the Ford Motor company. This company has already purchased nearly 70 acres of land on the inner harbor, on ground controlled jointly by Fred D. Parr and the city of Richmond. While no definite news has come from Detroit as to the time of constructing the big plant, it is understood that work will begin in the spring or summer of 1929.

To Employ Many The new plant will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 and will employ 2,000 workers. It will

Mrs. Cook reported that as she was walking down Civic Center street between Barrett and Nevins avenues at 6 o'clock last night she heard footsteps behind her. She halted and turned to face an unknown man.

"Are you following me?" she demanded. "I beg your pardon; I thought that you were someone I knew," the man said, Mrs. Cook told police.

The hearing was held in the council chamber of the city hall before Edward O. Allen, representing the commission. Mrs. T. H. AMERICA'S ANSWER PLAIN "NO"

The American reply in regard to the Anglo-French agreement is exactly what was expected. The United States holds the same views today about naval disarmament as she held a year ago at the Geneva conference. The proposal is incompatible with those views and affords no acceptable basis of discussion. The note politely but firmly rejects it.

We should like to know what has happened in the intervening year to make the British office suppose that America has changed her mind. If our government imagines that the United States may still be converted to the British view, does it think it a tactful procedure to begin this evangelistic task by discussing the matter first with the French, arriving at a private agreement with them, basing this on precisely those principles of limitation which America had rejected, and then coolly presenting this to America as an agreed starting point for fresh discussion?

We can imagine nothing more tactless—nothing shall we say, more rude—and we can well understand that it might even be construed as studied insolence. This is how many Americans have actually regarded it. Such amateurish diplomacy may well make us grasp with astonishment, and exclaim, like the old lady at the zoo when she saw a giraffe—"I don't believe it!" It must be incredible indeed to those who do not know what some of those in charge of our policy are capable of. But we should like to assure our American friends that they ought not to attribute this faux pas to chicanery or wickedness. We know our ministers, and can assure them that it is nothing worse than stupidity.—London Chronicle.

DEAR JUDIE:
Could you suggest a model for a bustle drape that had a modified bustle treatment? There are many with such a greatly modified bustle drape on this line but I cannot seem to find anything for afternoon. I have a little opportunity to wear evening clothes, and the thought came to me that I need not be denied a bustle dress because of that. What do you think? I should like a crepe satin or velvet. A. BEAUTY

My Dear Miss Lane:

On your suggestion, I am using cream rouge but I'm not sure that I like it very well. It does go on more naturally, I admit, and I like its staying qualities—but it stays on too long. I don't like it. No matter how much cream I use at night I still retain a red flush that isn't at all natural. It seems to me that if this rouge doesn't come off with cleansing cream, it must penetrate the pores so far as to do actual harm to the skin.

What have you to say for yourself—MRS. T.
Before I sink off and hide my face in the corner, I'd like to suggest that there may be something wrong with either your rouge or your cleansing cream.
I have used that type of rouge for a long time and have never had any such difficulty, as you describe. Since you approve of the natural effect given by cream rouge, why don't you buy another brand and see if it won't cleanse off more easily. And then, if that doesn't work—try a new kind of cold cream. I'm quite sure that something is wrong with one or the other of those that you are now using.
You're quite right in thinking that it won't do your skin any good to have the rouge remain on practically indefinitely. The face should be free of any trace of cosmetic before going to bed at night. Anyone who neglects thoroughly to cleanse her face before retiring (and as often during the day as necessary) is simply courting trouble. When the skin becomes muddy and disfigured with blemishes she will have only herself to thank.

Ald From U. S.

An interesting angle was injected into the battle to save the king's life today when C. E. Flynn, one of the king's home service messengers, boarded the Olympic on its arrival at Southampton and received a package from the purser.

It was said at the palace that the package contained a preparation known as Dakin's solution which is used in the sterilization of wounds. The solution came from the United States, where the electrolytic process of manufacture is said to be superior.

"Dr. O'Neill Sherman, of Pittsburgh, kindly suggested sending the supply for treatment of the king," said an official statement at the palace. "The offer was thankfully accepted."

Poison Drained

A high authority at Buckingham palace said the solution received from America would be used in treatment of the local condition at the base of the right side of the king's chest. The right side has been drained of poison by tubes since the operation on his majesty.

The many visits of physicians to the palace during the day added to the concern felt throughout the nation as a result of the check in the king's recovery.

The Prince of Wales visited the palace in the morning and again in the afternoon and Princess Mary postponed her visit to Harewood House, near Leeds.

LAW ATTEMPTS TO PREVENT PICTURE
According to Milton Sills, star of the "The Crash," the current attraction at the California theater there is such a thing as too much realism in the movies.
"In making 'The Crash,'" says Sills, "we went on location in the rough streets for several weeks. When it was time to make the sequence in which I meet Miss Todd, our director, Edward Clive, rented the local opera house in a small town. Miss Todd, by the way, plays prima donna in a cheap burlesque troupe when I meet her."
"Miss Todd and the supporting cast were on the stage ready to go through with the scene under 'Clive's' direction when a tall, rough looking mountaineer walked in the stage door and halted proceedings."
"Who?" he inquired, and you could hear his voice a mile away, who told you people you could put on a show here without a permit? I'm a sheriff, justice of the peace and constable here, and I should know about the before you start."
"Clive had to accompany the indignant officer to the local hotel and show him just what it was to be a private performance for movie purposes only before we could continue shooting."

Minor Building Permits Issued
Two minor building permits were issued yesterday by Arthur J. Hurley, city building inspector. West Coast Builders, Inc., were granted a permit to add 47 1/2 feet of floor space to the projection room of the California theater on Macdonald avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets at a cost of $300.
A permit was granted to A. C. Coster to build an office partition in a building on Macdonald avenue between twenty-second and twenty-third streets to cost $200.

THE HOME TOWNERS
BY JOHN LEARY PELTRET
FROM WARNER BROS. "ALL TALKING" VITAPHONE PICTURE
BASED ON THE COMEDY BY GEORGE M. COHAN...
SYNOPSIS-Arnold asks his chum Bancroft to be best man at his wedding and to bring his wife. Bancroft becomes suspicious of the motives of the fiancée's family and kicks up a row. He is pig-headed and will not recede from the idea.

CHAPTER VI
BEFORE Beth and Wally leave, the latter tells Arnold he will not be at the office that afternoon. Arnold, irritated, tells him he need not come back at all. Wally departs, airily. Mrs. Bancroft tells Arnold how sorry she is, that Bancroft was well nicknamed when he was labeled by Arnold "pig-head" and urges Arnold to go to Beth, as she is the one to fix everything.
WHEN Arnold has left Mrs. Bancroft tells her husband that he is certainly at the end of a perfect day and that this will be the last trip she will take with him. She decides she will eat, asks Bancroft what he wants. He says, repeatedly, "nothing." So Mrs. Bancroft goes into the next room to give an order. Bancroft hearing it, opens door and shouts in "ham and eggs."
ARNOLD goes down and finds the Calhoun family at lunch. As the matter in hand cannot be discussed in public he takes them to his apartment when they leave the hotel. He makes a clean breast of the whole thing, hoping it will pour oil on the troubled waters. Nothing doing. The old folks do their best to try and help straighten matters. Beth only says no Bancroft at her wedding.
AS this fails Arnold tries another tack, telling Beth how much it means to have his old pal there. What will the home towners think if his pal P. H. is not best man. This spurs a match in the oil being poured on the troubled waters, and Beth blazes up. She says that if the home towners are so important to him he can have them and keep them for all of her.

He urged the club members with the coming of the new year to "clean house" and to cast out all of the old fears and petty things of their lives.
Dr. U. S. Abbott was chairman of the day. Ira Cole presented several vocal selections.

Alice White In High Hurdles To Film Fame
From obscurity to prominence of first rank as an actress in the short space of a year is the enviable record of Alice White, who plays the feminine lead in "The Big Noise," the first National Picture which is now playing at the Richmond theater.
Formerly a script clerk, Miss White got her first motion picture role in "The Sea Tiger," a First National Production starring Milton Sills.
Her part stood out so well that a contract resulted, several months passed, however, without further opportunity. She played a minor role supporting Billie Dove in "American Beauty," then was chosen for the part of Adriane in "The Private Life of Helen of Troy."
"The Big Noise" is a satirical comedy from a screen story by Ben Hecht, and was directed by Allan Dwan. The cast includes Chester Conklin, Sam Hardy, Ned Sparks, Bodil Rosing, Jack Egan and others.

As she turned the man leaped toward her. A blackjack descended upon her head. She fell to the sidewalk, momentarily stunned by the force of the blow.
The man snatched her purse containing $4 in silver and fled toward Twenty-third street and Barrett avenue.
A passing motorist a few minutes later saw Mrs. Cook lying upon the street. He immediately picked her up and rushed her to Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue where they met Patrolmen James Ends and J. F. Pappas.
Search Started
A search was immediately started for the assailant but up to a late hour last night it was unsuccessful. Descriptions of the man were immediately broadcast to neighborhood allies and the police there started a close watch on incoming trains and street cars.
Mrs. Cook described her assailant as being young, wearing a light gray cap, a dark sweater and a dark pair of trousers.
Saved By Hat
The heavy hat and her hair are believed to have saved her from a possible fractured skull. She was returning from a shopping tour just after dark when the attack took place.
Her husband is connected with the Southern Pacific company here. The family is well known in this district.

UTILITY BODY IN REVIEW OF 1928

An outstanding record of achievement was made by the East Bay Municipal Utility district during the year 1928. Chief among the accomplishments was the acquisition of the East Bay Water company, the sale having been consummated on Dec. 8 at which time the district purchased all the properties of the private corporation for a net price of $33,750.00.

This completed the municipal ownership program which was aimed at when the East Bay Utility district was formed at an election in May 1923, according to Dr. George C. Pardee, president. The Utility district has taken possession of the works of the East Bay Water company and is now in the business distributing water to the people of the nine East Bay cities, comprising a population of 500,000, with headquarters in the former company's office building at Sixteenth and San Pablo. Final details have been cleaned up in the old headquarters in the Rex building and the entire establishment has been moved to the Sixteenth street office.

Year's Negotiations. Negotiations looking toward the acquisition of the distribution system were carried on for a year. Meanwhile the construction program of the Mokelumne water project was being aggressively pushed. The Pardee dam on the Mokelumne river was at the foundation stage at the beginning of the year at the end of the year it stands 220 feet above the river and approximately within 100 feet of its destined height.

The Pardee tunnel, which provides the outlet for the water from the reservoir to the pipe lines, was "holed through" during the summer and is now being concreted. The tunnel will be completed early in the summer, and at about the same time the contractors figure to finish the big dam.

Clearmont Tunnel. The Clearmont tunnel, standing at the extreme western end of the Mokelumne system, admitting water from the pipe line into the distribution plant, will show daylight within the next 60 days, after which concreting of the bore will be completed. Heavy flow of water in the western heading and many natural obstacles have resulted in some delay on the Clearmont tunnel, it was announced.

Some months ago contracts were let for the Sequoia and the Wildcat aqueducts which carry water east and west along the foothills from the Clearmont tunnel. The Sequoia aqueduct runs in an easterly direction and has as its objective the new Sequoia reservoir to be constructed on the hills above El Cerrito. The Wildcat aqueduct is being run to ward the new projected Wildcat reservoir back of El Cerrito. Both these pipe lines are of larger diameter, running at a high altitude along the hills and will give new service and new fire protection to a large residential area heretofore served by mains of this size.

Long Pipe Lines. The entire pipe line from the west portal of the Pardee tunnel to the east portal of the Clearmont tunnel was completed last May, establishing a time record for a structure of this magnitude. The aqueducts and the Walnut Creek and Lafayette tunnels, which are included in that work, are as miles long.

A board of engineers has been at work for some time making a survey of the Lafayette dam and is expected to report its findings in the near future as to what the district's policy should be toward this structure.

The water distribution system is being operated by the Utility district at present along exactly the same lines as those followed by the East Bay Water company. The offices in Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Richmond are being operated as before. Bills are payable either over the counter or by mail as was the former rule.

Dr. Pardee Head. Dr. Pardee becomes president of the whole system, including the distribution plant and the Mokelumne plant, and Arthur P. Davis becomes chief engineer and general manager of the entire project, which is now a $65,000,000 municipal corporation.

Water gathered on the local watersheds and flowing down into the reservoirs is now being distributed as usual and this will continue until delivery of Mokelumne water, which is expected to take place about a year hence.

The year 1929 will see the completion of every contract on the Mokelumne water project. It was said by Chief Engineer Davis.

Phoenix Gets Freight Depot.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—The erection of a large new freight depot by the Santa Fe at Phoenix, Ariz., to handle the growing commerce of that progressive city, has been announced here. The contract was awarded to a local firm.

A large repair shed also is to be built at the point, officials of the Coast Lines announced.

KELLOGG GIVES WAR TREATY VIEWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—UP.—The Monroe Doctrine is protected by the anti-war treaty because it rests upon the right of self defense which the treaty recognizes, Secretary of State Kellogg told the Senate Foreign Relations committee when questioned recently, according to an official transcript of the testimony made public tonight.

Secretary Kellogg also told the committee the United States was not morally bound to go to war against any nation which violated the treaty and that the recognition of Russia was not involved merely because the United States and Russia were both parties to a multilateral agreement. Secretary Kellogg added he had not yet decided whether it would be advisable to admit senators to the fight to adopt a resolution of interpretation after the holidays.

Can Only Shadow. Kellogg declared that the Monroe Doctrine would be interpreted as a shadow.

"Why gentlemen," Secretary Kellogg told the senators, "every country in Europe which could make war on Central or South America has signed this treaty; and if they did make war they would break it and we would be released anyhow. Here is a shadow. Even without this treaty, does anybody believe that the present governments of Europe are in any position to attack any one of the South American countries and impose their form of government? And they all have different forms of government from what they had 100 years ago."

This last point was in reference to the original statement of the Monroe Doctrine which opposed any European power imposing its form of government on any part of the western hemisphere.

Self Defense Act. "The Monroe Doctrine," Secretary Kellogg said at another point, "is simply a doctrine of self-defense. It does not consist of any agreement between the United States and any country in the western hemisphere or anywhere else. It is unnecessary for me to go through all the intricacies of every statesman from the time of Monroe to the present to show what the Monroe Doctrine is. Immediately after the revolution there was the Holy Alliance in existence, whose object was to impose a monarchical government, monarchical rule, on every country. We considered that a menace to the United States, and that was the basis of the Monroe Doctrine. President Monroe said that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system of government to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. And over and over again it is stated that the Doctrine is based solely on the right of self-defense to the United States."

Borah To Aid. Senator Borah, chairman here, came to the support of Kellogg. "It is perfectly certain that every nation when the time arrives will construe this treaty in the way it regards as justifying self-defense," Borah said. "Every nation will construe the treaty for itself, as to what constitutes self-defense, and it does not make any difference what you said and what was stated afterwards, when the time comes, what she regards as self-defense she will construe as self-defense."

Senator Swanson, Virginia democrat, asked if the United States was morally bound to go to war against any nation violating the treaty. Kellogg replied there was no such obligation.

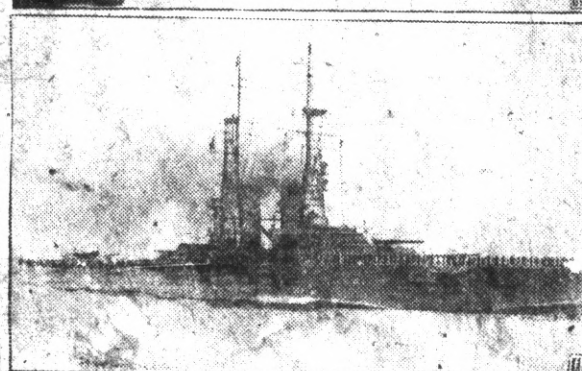

The Secretary also emphatically said that participating in a multilateral treaty to which Russia is a party does not involve recognition of Russia.

DIARY OF LOST CANYON PAIR FOUND

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Dec. 28, UP.—"We were struck a whirlpool in the water, we must stay with the boat all night. But we will try to find a landing place." That was the first entry, dated Nov. 30, in the diary of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hyde, Hanceville, Idaho, thirty years ago who were lost or dead in the canyon in an attempt to cross the rapids of the Colorado River.

The diary was brought back here today by personal effects of the Hyde's, Henry and Elizabeth Hyde, who returned had that the results of the searchers' find.

The Hyde's after a search near where the house made Hyde's was found at Diamond creek, holding in old papers but held by a trout rope which had wedged into the rocks. Hyde's people were drowned. Thanking the finders for the diary.

As the diary was found, the Hyde's were expected to return here late tonight or early Saturday.

The brothers nearly met their death during the search. One, after shooting separation rapids, their boat overturned. They spent Christmas night in wet clothing and in the wet boat unable to land to start a fire.

The Hyde's were last seen 24 days ago at Bright Angel creek in the canyon. They had started from Green River, Utah, on Oct. 24, on their vacation trip and expected to reach Needles, Calif., Dec. 6.

NATION TO HEAR ROSE CONTEST ON AIR

Late reports from the south last night stated that Graham McNamee would not be at the microphone Tuesday afternoon during the playing of the football game.

With Graham McNamee, William Chennault Munday, Jr., and Carl Haverlin, three of the country's best known sports announcers at the microphones, the entire circuits of the National Broadcasting company and association stations will bring to the nation a play by play description of the University of California-Georgia Tech football classic from the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Pacific Standard Time, on New Year's day.

Prior to the game, Graham McNamee will paint another of his famous word pictures in an effort to outdo his last year's description of California's marvelous weather and the gorgeous beauty of the Rose Bowl. The first and third quarters of the game will be described by Munday, and the second and fourth by Haverlin.

Well Known

To the Pacific coast radio fans, Carl Haverlin and Graham McNamee need no introduction. McNamee has broadcast all important sporting events since the National Broadcasting company first began its transcontinental hook ups. Haverlin will be remembered for his broadcast of practically all important games from the Los Angeles Coliseum that have been released over KFI and the National Broadcasting company system.

Although making his initial appearance before a microphone on the Pacific coast, William Chennault Munday, Jr., young veteran of the Atlanta Journal staff and radio department, represents remarkable co-ordination of the qualifications requisite for broadcasting an effective action story of any athletic contest, according to reports from WSB, where he is known as "Hully Bill to the Sport Fans of that station."

Good Background

As a University of Georgia graduate and varsity baseball star, Munday enjoys a nine year editorial background as a sports observer, writer, and analyst, and is keenly conscious of the needs of the "blind end" radio audience.

At present time stations scheduled to broadcast the game in the west include KOA, Denver; KGW, Portland; KSL, Salt Lake City; KGO, Oakland; KGW, Portland; KOMO, Seattle; KHQ, Spokane; and KFI, Los Angeles.

Referees For Boxing Bouts Here Selected

Benny Wagner, matchmaker at the El Cerrito club has been named by C. F. Traugott, state boxing commissioner, as one of the six official referees to handle all bouts in this section of the state. The other five includes Toby Irwin, Bobby Johnson, Joe Gorman, Eddie White and Eddie Burns. Three alternatives are Jack Hogan, Tommy McCarthy and Billy Snellman.

Wagner is one of the oldest referees in point of service in the state. He started in 1903 but didn't quit the boxing game until 1909. In his last bout, in Salinas he knocked out Spider Roach, now boxing instructor at the San Francisco Olympic club.

Because of his connections with the club, Wagner will not act as third man in the ring at El Cerrito.

BEARS TO PLAY USUAL GAME WITH TECH

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—On the shoulders of nearly 10,000 spectators a veritable football classic will be played here New Year's day. The Bears will have to drive back with his kicks. He is the center of a deep-hal series of triple-threat plays which gives California a fair chance to make yardage and be the passing.

While there was some belief for a time that California was planning a complete shift from its usual defensive football to the aggressive, it is now believed that Coach Nils Price will play his usual "kick and wait for the breaks" style.

Lon To Kick
Lon has been kicking high and far and a good kick is supposed to make the opposition produce two first downs to get even. It wears the opposition down as well. If California plays its usual game it may be a case of "Lon punted; Lon ground end; Lon passed."

Warner Mizell, the Tech punter has been getting his kicks off fast and low, making dangerous catches for the safety men, but he has not been getting distance. Georgia Tech used the Rose Bowl for a morning workout today. The Yellow Jackets kept the air filled with passes again for a time, with Mizell doing the tossing.

South On Offense
The Southerners have been showing more of their offense each day, with a resistent over-weighing of the scrub opposition. Thompson and Mabel continued to look very good on their plays off tackle.

Thompson has drawn considerable attention here. He starts fast like Don Williams of Southern California, and hits his tacklers much harder.

California spent a good deal of time in defensive work today and it was said in the California camp that this probably would feature the remaining practices.

Coach Price still seemed unsatisfied that the Bears were in ideal condition and put them through on physical exercises again.

Fifty Georgians, headed by Mayor L. N. Ragadaye of Atlanta, arrived in Los Angeles today for the game. The party was greeted by Mayor George E. Cryer, of Los Angeles.

Prep Eleven Prepare For Texas Match

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(UP)—The pick of Southern California's prep school griders took only a light workout today as the completed training for their inter-sectional game with Central High of Fort Worth, Tex., in the Coliseum here Saturday.

Inasmuch as the Texans are credited with having a strong aerial attack and the all-stars stressed a passing offense in their drill today, fans are likely to see the ball in the air much of the time. One Mosher, sensational Alhambra bull carrier and Bob Jordan, Fort Worth, scoring ace, are expected to lead the ground gaining.

WEST FAVORED IN SHRINE CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—The fourth annual football contest in which gridiron stars of the east oppose leaders of the west, will be played here Saturday.

Indications tonight were that the game, which is for the benefit of crippled children, and for which 48 of the best known football players of the nation are assembling, will exceed in interest any that has preceded it.

The encounter failed to gain much attention during the first two years but has grown to be one of the sport features of the country in the holiday season.

Little Betting
There was very little betting on the outcome of the contest but a great deal of conjecture as to who would be the outstanding player among the stars. The west seemed to be a slight favorite due to victories of three Pacific coast universities over colleges of the east this year.

Harper of Carnegie Tech and Holmer of Northwestern are expected to be hard pressed by "Big" Hoffman of Stanford for individual honors but there are so many good players that they may not show so well.

Prestige of the west increased today when it was learned that Morton "Devil May" Kaer, one of the best all-American players ever developed in the west, would take the place of 17-year "Brick" Marcus, who was injured in practice.

At the same time hostilities between the two teams increased because the east complained about Kaer's substitution, claiming three of their men had been hurt and could not be replaced. Easterners who were named on the hospital list were Backward, Mitchell and Haverat. Only Haverat was listed as a starter but he can play only a short time, it was said.

Kaer has removed the chief problem that has worried the west coaches. They have needed a man to fill the safety position and Kaer is well experienced in that place.

The easterners will apparently have the advantage in co-ordination. They have seemed to learn team work quicker than their opponents and are believed to be better acquainted with their signals.

Prospects for favorable weather were good and more than 40,000 spectators were expected.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a group of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking a little medicine to keep the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when a little medicine should be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Sugar-coated, women should keep a bottle on hand. Every drugstore has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine."

THE HEART OF RICHMOND

For appraisal purposes, land values radiate from Macdonald Avenue and Tenth Street, as the present maximum value is at this point.

The reason is, because of its accessibility to and from our residential and manufacturing districts. The development of our inner harbor and the Ford plant, with many prospective industries, will make Macdonald Avenue and Tenth Street for many years to come, the HEART OF RICHMOND.

We are offering today the southwest corner of Barrett Avenue and Tenth Street, within 1 block of the new Montgomery Ward Building and 3 blocks of Macdonald Avenue and Tenth Street, at a price, that within a few years, will net you a handsome return on your investment.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS SUFFER FROM MY QUICK RECOVERY

San Jose, Cal. Nov. 13, 1928.
To Whom It May Concern:

For some time past I suffered from nervous attacks similar to St. Vitus Dance. My speech was so affected that I could scarcely utter a word. My heart was so weak that I had to lie down after every meal. I tried every method of healing known to me in vain. Then I was recommended to try the Fong Wan Herbs. Now after but two weeks of that treatment, I am completely well.

My friends and neighbors as well as the men who formerly treated me are all surprised at my recovery in almost no time. All inquiries as to whose skill has brought me such wonderful and quick relief.

(Signed) JOSEPHINE DOMINGUEZ, (Assisted by her mother, Mrs. Anna Dominguez, 615 Emery St., San Jose, Cal.)

People who wish to learn more about Fong Wan's knowledge of herbs and methods of healing should get his new book free at his office or mailed to any address upon receipt of 10c postage.

DRY OFFICIALS WAIT BUYER DECISION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(U.S.P.)—The quiet treatment in the liquor bill can be conducted with out fear on the buyer's part that he will be convicted of conspiracy, the United Press learned today from prohibition officials.

Prohibition will continue along present lines regardless of the recent ruling by a Philadelphia federal judge that under certain circumstances a buyer is equally guilty with the seller, both Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman and Prohibition Commissioner Doran said.

To Higher Courts
"We are greatly pleased over the decision," Lowman commented, "but we cannot make use of it until it has been stretched out to the higher courts."

Doran expressed belief the decision might make an effective argument against the United States supreme court upholding the prosecution of large transactions will be easier.

A member of the prohibition bureau's legal staff said the decision could not be used in the case of a simple sale where no question is involved.

In other words, the attorney explained, "a purchaser can go to a bootlegger and buy liquor without danger of conviction on conspiracy charges, unless it involves a large transaction."

A buyer also can call a bootlegger and say, "I want a pint of a quart" with equal freedom from arrest.

Official Speaks
An anti-saloon league official expressed the opinion that the decision could not be used against the plot and quart purchaser.

The conspiracy clause was not enacted for the purpose of apprehending the plot purchaser but is solely to stop large transactions," the dry official said.

This man, who has been in the inner councils of the anti-saloon league for more than 15 years, explained why the eighteenth amendment did not include the purchase of liquor. The amendment simply prohibits the manufacture, sale or transportation of liquor, not mentioning purchase.

Purchase Omitted
"These who drafted the amendment were afraid that to include the purchase of liquor might involve too many legal technicalities on the infringement of individual rights. For this reason the purchaser was omitted from the amendment," he said.

Senator Sheppard, Texas democrat, author of the prohibition amendment, declined to predict whether the ruling might lead to legislation making the purchaser of liquor equally guilty with the seller in all transactions.

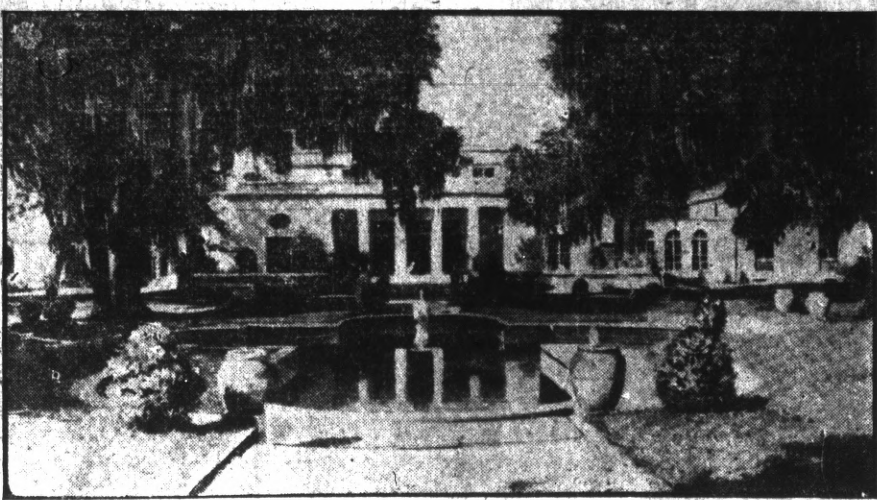

"There is no telling what the supreme court will do with the decision," he said, "but from my knowledge of both the prohibition law and the conspiracy law, I believe the judge was correct in his ruling."

First Baptist Group In Plans For New Years

Final plans for the New Year's eve services to be held at the church parlors Monday night were completed by the members of the B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church last night. The session was in the form of a dinner meeting.

It is planned to hold a devotional session starting at 8:30 Monday evening. There will be a brief intermission and the groups will adjourn to the gymnasium where they will hold a social meeting. Games will be played and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Cardoza intervened in his behalf. The woman is said to have preferred Cardoza's smashing entrance by going to his barber shop and smashing several bottles of liquor.

Keystone Group To Hear Address By Rev. A. L. Webb

Many Large Projects To Be Finished

rank next to the Standard Oil company as Richmond's largest industry.

Water has already been dredged to a depth of 32 feet on two sides of the Ford site and along the portion of the inner harbor where the new Parr Richmond terminal will stand. The land has been filled to a height of several feet above the water level and is now ready for construction of standard industrial plants.

Terminal Progresses

The new Parr Richmond Terminal, owned jointly by Parr and the city is progressing rapidly and will be completed and ready for use about July. It was announced by the Chamber of Commerce, which has all been driven and most of the floor poured for the big structure, which will be more than 900 feet long and will cost more than half a million dollars. The city's portion of the financing was provided for in a bond issue voted by the people more than a year ago.

The Parr Richmond Terminal on the outer harbor is an established success and is handling an increasingly large amount of cargo every month, with substantial profit to the city and to the Parr company. It was said.

New Industries

Chamber of Commerce activities will continue to center largely on the bringing in of new industries. It was said by P. M. Sanford, president. The Chamber directors recently voted to go in for the plan of direct selling by personal representation. A special fund has been set aside to provide for two trips a year to the east by a Richmond man qualified to "sell" Richmond to the biggest industrial heads in the country. The direct selling will be augmented by an aggressive advertising and publicity program. It was said.

Notable among the projects for 1929, detailed plans for which have not been made public, is the dredging program in the Cutting Canal, leading from Cutting Boulevard to inner harbor and the bay. Landing into this will be the Santa Fe railroad company, owner of the largest parcel of land there and with this company will be joined other concerns and property owners in a piece of work which is expected to open up immense new acres of land, to industrial development in the neighborhood of the inner harbor.

Road Project

The outstanding road project of the year will be the Tenth street extension. This calls for a new cut off from the state highway to the north leading into the heart of Richmond over a 100 foot boulevard and by a more direct route than the one now in use. The proposed new road will leave the state highway at the foot of Tank Farm hill two miles beyond San Pablo and will cut across open country to Willet Creek, thence down Kearney and to Tenth, and on to the heart of the business section and the inner harbor in a direct line. The plans call for taking up Garfield Boulevard with the new extension, which will give a new and more direct route to the outer harbor and the Southern Pacific ferry. Funds have been provided for purchase of rights of way and the work will be under way in the near future. It is believed.

Richmond ends the year 1928 finding itself 25 years old since it became an incorporated community. During the period it has grown from a small village at Point Richmond to a city of more than 30,000 inhabitants.

version took place in his presence.

Seidl, on the stand, denied that he had held any conversation with the Craigs subsequent to the accident other than discussing newspaper accounts of the explosion.

Mrs. Craig stated that Seidl had informed her that he overheard a conversation shortly before the accident between E. J. Fry, engineer and Caldeira in which the former ordered Caldeira to take the blow torch up into the still "or quit." Caldeira, according to Mrs. Craig's version of the conversation with Seidl, stated that he would obey the order but that he would quit that night.

Seidl in his testimony told of driving Simons to San Jose hospital following the explosion. He stated that prior to the accident he was working on an upper floor of the still and was just coming down to see if Caldeira could not be stopped from burning the blow torch. He said that he saw the tank and hose of the acetylene torch.

He admitted talking to Mr. and Mrs. Craig but denied that he had told them of overhearing the purported conversation between Fry and Caldeira.

Mrs. Craig stated that Caldeira told her that he was in one of two rooms of an office at the plant while the two men were in the other room.

She stated that when she asked him on which side he intended to align himself in case of an investigation, that he stated that he had to look out for himself as he had just purchased a new car and had to pay for it.

Fry, the engineer, denied on the stand that he had issued an order or threat to Caldeira. Lance Mulhail and Manuel Paria, both injured in the explosion, gave testimony in regard to the accident but declared that they had not heard any conversation between Fry and Caldeira.

F. B. Mahoney and J. C. Meyerstein are attorneys for the Western Industries company while G. S. Keil represents the applicants. The hearing was continued until a future date to be set by the commission and will be held in San Francisco some time after New Year's day.

Dry Group Head Must Serve Prison Term

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 28. UP.—J. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana anti-saloon league must serve a 90 day sentence on the state farm for contempt, the Supreme Court ruled today in holding illegal a pardon issued by Gov. Ed Jackson (Oct. 18).

The state prohibition leader was sentenced originally after publication of his annual report two years ago in which he allegedly referred to the supreme court body as "wet."

Shumaker fought the sentence for several months in the court but finally surrendered last October to serve the sentence. The "Dry" leader arrived at the prison farm on Oct. 19 but a pardon from the governor already had been received and Shumaker was released.

Considerable controversy arose after the issuance of the pardon and a demand was made for Shumaker to apologize to the court. Shumaker's friends countered with statements that they believed the anti-saloon league superintendent had acted sincerely and he refused to apologize.
